

The Parents Community Service Network Presents

Service as Social Justice: An Interactive Workshop

Thursday, February 25, 2016

9:15 - 11:30 am

48 East 80th Street, New York, NY

What does community service feel like from all sides? How do we go about designing service activities for students that are inclusive and respectful, but also directly address the disparities that exist in our society? Join us as we explore how to effectively engage diverse constituents when partnering for community service projects. Through some short case studies and engaging exercises, our expert moderators will inspire us to move from charity to change. It's an event you won't want to miss!

Moderated by:

Erica Corbin

Director of Community Life and Diversity, The Chapin School
Chair, NYSAIS Diversity Committee

Tene Howard

Director of Global Outreach, Service and Sustainability, Packer Collegiate Institute

Michelle Wonsley

Director of Community Life, The Brearley School

The event is free, but space is limited and registration is required.

To register, please email your name and school/organization to:

parentscommunityservicenetwork@gmail.com

Founded in 2013, the Parents Community Service Network (PCSN) is a New York City-based parent network that coordinates and collaborates with schools, nonprofits and other stakeholders to enrich and deepen the experience of community service for all involved.

parentscommunityservicenetwork@gmail.com
parentscommunityservicenetwork.org